

Sports

Poem by John McKernan

Why would someone
Walk up to a casket

And drop
A blue ski mask
Down by the shoes

Why would
Someone else place
A putting iron
In the same casket

I am always afraid
To look around a mortuary
People touching photos
Other people looking at flowers
Like they are going to steal them Later

Photograph by Margaret Mendel